

Lead Poisoning & Housing in the River City

What do St. Louis residents think that the City is doing about lead poisoning and housing?

Wanting to find out, the Gateway Greens held 13 focus groups between December 2008 and July 2009 that involved 86 City residents.

Each focus group addressed four questions? What do you like about the City's efforts on lead poisoning? How do you think that the City could improve its lead programs? What do you like about the City's efforts on housing? How do you think that the City could improve its housing programs? The panel will discuss what the focus groups said and implications it has for policies of the City of St. Louis.

- Joyce McCowan, Program Developer, Gateway Greens
- Lynn Parson, St. Louis Public School Librarian
- Heather Buckley, Mother of lead poisoned child
- Jerry Wessels, Lead Inspection Hazard Control Program Manager
- Don Fitz, Gateway Green Alliance [moderator]

For more information call 314-727-8554, email fitzdon@aol.com or visit www.gateway-greens.org

What the people are saying

7 pm, Wednesday
November 4, 2009
Legacy Bookstore & Cafe
5249 Delmar (near Union)
St. Louis, MO 63108

